RASFF

RASFF 2013.1017 - prohibited substance chloramphenicol (0.13; 9.07; 1.35; 672.07 µg/kg - ppb) in enzyme preparations from Belgium, with raw material from France, Denmark and Japan.

As a follow-up of our previous communication, FAMI-QS met with FEFANA “working group enzyme” and AMFEP. Please click to read communication issued by AMFEP.

We would like to draw all FAMI-QS certified companies’ attention to the fact that, if they use enzymes in their production process, they ought to verify whether any antibiotics are present in it; said control must be included in the Feed Business Operators’ HACCP plan. In addition to this, Feed Business Operators shall define whether or not this check is a Critical Control Point in their HACCP plan.

Moreover, with more and more globalisation, the Operator’s supply chain has become extensive and complex. FAMI-QS would like to emphasize the need to strengthen supplier / customer contracts to improve the supply chain’s transparency (see Newsletter 02 – May 2013).

More generally, FAMI-QS would like to stress the fact that the EU legislation on animal nutrition:

- banned the use of antibiotics used for growth promotion in animal feed from January 2006 (EC 1831/2003),
- established maximum residue limits of veterinary medicinal products in foodstuffs of animal origin (Council Regulation EEC 2377/90 with all amendments) which can have impacts on the feed industry,
- laid down a Community procedure for the undesirable substances (EC 2002/32 with all amendments).
- adopted a list of materials whose circulation or use for animal nutrition purposes is prohibited (Commission Decision 2004/217/EC).
